

FoxAcre Press is proud to announce
InterstellarNet: Enigma

the third volume of

Edward M. Lerner's Exciting InterstellarNet Saga

FoxAcre Press proudly announces the release of InterstellarNet: Enigma by Edward M. Lerner. The book is being released in a five-part ebook serial, on a weekly schedule, during April and May 2015. The full-length book was released midway through release of the serial, and the print edition of the book will appear on June 30, 2015. A detailed table of release dates and prices appears on the second page of this press release.

Plans were already well along for the publication of this latest installment of the InterstellarNet series when exciting news arrived: Championship B'tok, which comprises Part Two of InterstellarNet: Enigma, had earned a coveted nomination as best novelette for the prestigious 2015 Hugo Awards.

Slight changes to the text of Championship B'tok were made between the Hugo-nominated version that appeared in the September 2014 edition of Analog Magazine and the version scheduled to appear in InterstellarNet: Enigma. The decision was made to release a special Hugo Nomination Edition of Championship B'tok that included both versions of the novelette.

Special Pricing on Ebook Serial and Previous Books in the Series

As part of the celebration for InterstelllarNet: Enigma, FoxAcre Press will offer Part One and Part Two of the ebook serial at 99 cents. At the same time, special promotional prices have been set for InterstellarNet: Origins and InterstellarNet: New Order, the earlier volumes of Lerner's sprawling future history. The ebook editions of these titles will be on sale for $2.99, (more than 50% off the regular price) and the print editions for $13.95, 30% off the previous price.

Advance Praise for InterstellarNet: Enigma

The new entry in the InterstellarNet saga has already garnered praise from noted names in the field. Ben Bova, author of the Grand Tour series, called it "a breathtakingly richly realized vision of what tomorrow's civilization may look like," while Hugo-winner Robert J. Sawyer said "InterstelllarNet: Enigma is Lerner's latest gem, and it's up to his usual excellent standards; a winner all around." Stanley Schmidt described the series as "one of the most original and well-thought-out visions of an interstellar civilization I've ever seen."

FoxAcre Press publishes science fiction, fantasy, non-fiction, and mystery titles. The publisher is New York Times bestselling author Roger MacBride Allen. More information about FoxAcre Press and the InterstellarNet series can be found at FoxAcre.com, FoxBytes.net, or the FoxAcre Press InterstellarNet Page. To get answers not provided on those websites, write to foxinfo [at] foxacre.com.

Print Edition • 6x9 inch trade paperback
 440 pages • $15.95
 ISBN-13: 978-1-936771-64-6
 Publication date: June 30, 2015

InterstellarNet: Enigma Release Schedule
Date	Release	Price
Monday, April 20, 2015	ebook: Part 1	$0.99
Monday, April 27, 2015	ebook: Part 2	$0.99
Monday, May 4, 2015	ebook: Part 3	$2.99
Monday, May 4, 2015	ebook: Entire book	$7.99
Monday, May 11, 2015	ebook: Part 4	$2.99
Monday, May 18, 2015	ebook: Part 5	$2.99
Tuesday, June 30, 2015	Print Edition	$15.95

- Plans are still in the works for special price reductions and other promotions. Check at FoxBytes.net, FoxAcre.com, or the FoxAcre Press InterstellarNet Page for more information. The ebook serial parts and the full-text ebook editions will be available from Amazon Kindle, Barnes & Noble Nook, and the Apple iBook store.
- Please also bear in mind that when it comes to releasing ebook titles, there are occasional processing delays beyond the publisher's control.
- Promotional Pricing on previous titles in the series: Effective April 20, 2015, we're cutting the price of the print editions of InterstellarNet: Origins and InterstellarNet: New Order from $19.50 to $13.95, and cutting the price of the ebook editions of those titles from $7.99 to $2.99.

EDWARD M. LERNER worked in high tech and aerospace for thirty years, as everything from engineer to senior vice president, for much of that time writing science fiction as a hobby. Since 2004 he has written full-time.

His novels range from near-future technothrillers, like Small Miracles and Energized, to traditional SF, like the InterstellarNet novels, to (collaborating with Larry Niven) the space-opera epic Fleet of Worlds series of Ringworld companion novels.

Ed's short fiction has appeared in anthologies, collections, and many of the usual SF magazines. He also writes the occasional nonfiction technology article. Lerner lives in Virginia with his wife, Ruth.

His website is www.edwardmlerner.com.

FoxAcre Press

www.FoxAcre.com